Aplington, Iowa

Dedication

The most deserving people are seldom the ones to gain recognition. The cooks have served the school and the student body faithfully for many years. Their service is very often taken for granted and we think they deserve the acknowledgement of a job well done. It is with deep appreciation that we, the Seniors of 1967, dedicate our yearbook to

Class Will

Be it known that on this 19th day of May, 1967, we, the members of the class of '67, do hereby will the following items to the following listed underclassmen:

I, PIIA AARMA, will my braces to Alan Stockdale. Maybe that will keep his mouth shut.

I, KENNY ABBAS, will my 361 hemi to Mark Miller and his jeep. Now you'll have a "funny car"!

I, LOUIS BAKKER, will my corner in the balcony to Stan Shoemaker. Now all you need is a girl, Stan. I would have willed the corner to Wayne Perry, but he already has a place.

I, SHIRLEY CARD, will my white heels and knee socks to Mr. McCoid. He will now have some new accessories to wear.

I, TERESA DE VRIES, will to my cousin Becky Reinicke, my ability to stick to one guy.

We, VERNON DE VRIES and NEALE OLDENBURGER, will our accidents to Kenny Capron and Dave Miller. When you have an accident from now on, maybe you will hit something.

We, BECKY DREYER, KATHY MEYER, and TERRY SNEVE, will our "stones" to Linda Behrends, Carol Schipper, and Pauletta Kampman. Good luck, girls.

I, WAYNE DORHMAN, will my flying ability to Noel Oldenburger. Now all you need is a cape.

I, PAULETTE DRUVENGA, will my determination on the basketball court to Mervin Boekhoff. Maybe he can court a girl on the BB floor.

I, JAN DUHN, will my freckles to Sheila Mennen, but since she isn't here anymore, I'll just have to keep them!

We, the ELLIOTT boys, JEFF and PAUL, better known as the nut brothers, Wal and Chest, will our VW's of Russel Haan knowing that his ford will never last through his high school years ahead.

I, LINDA ELLIOTT, will my red hair to Mr. Hultman. Now all you need is a red mustache and you're sure to keep everyones attention in class.

I, GLEN EVERTS, will my coon hounds to Jim Schipper. Now you'll have someone to rub ears with.

I, JUDY FINGER, will my traveling feet to Delores Borneman. Go, girl, go!

I, KATHY FISHER, will my summer tan to Mark Miller, to go with his summer blonde.

I, CRAIG FREY, will my hair to Mr. Harmon, since the hair he was willed last year didn't come up.

I, JOLENE FREY, will my quiet, unassuming manner to Myron Poley, David Wolff, and Alan Ostercamp. Maybe that will put some fire into their lives.

I, LARRY HARKEN, will my rosey red cheeks to Debbie Schurman. That should cut her cosmetic bill.

We, JUDY HARTMAN, ELAINE LURSEN, and LINDA KLAHSEN, will our jumbo class rings to Nancy McLaren, Martha Dreyer, and Paulette Neymeyer. Now you can run up YOUR tape bill.

I, SHARON HENDRICKS, will my hairdo in the "Curious Savage" to Bruce Bassler and Gary Ostercamp. Now you can be true Beatles.

We, KATHLEEN LINDAMAN and BARB KAMPMAN, will our aggressive nature in sports to Belva Doescher. Now all you need is to be a member of a team.

I, PAT KLOOSTER, will my Betty Cooker's Crock Book to Marcia Kooker. Now you can cook up a crock, Miss Kooker.

I, KENT KOOI, will my height to Steve Brouwer. Maybe success will be his on the basketball court.

I, CONNIE KOPPEDRYER, will my babysitting ability to Curt Kannegietor, as if he needed it!

I, MARK KRAMER, will my gun collection to Marlene Eiklenborg. Now you can have a shooting match.

I, ELDON KRULL, will my 327 to Larry Stubbe. Maybe now you can win ONE drag.

We, JAN MAIFIELD and MARCIA NEYMEYER, will our quiet manner to Pam Brouwer,but mums the word.

I, MARILYN MEHMEN, will my true blonde hair to Teresa Cuvelier. Now maybe she'll quit experimenting.

I, BOB MEINDERS, will my treasured English book to Nancy Druvenga. Now you can take English 12 without signing up.

We, DOUG NEYMEYER, PAUL ELLIOTT, JEFF ELLIOTT, JAKE LIMBERG, and LOUIE BAKKER, will our many trips across the street from the schoolhouse to John Smith. Keep that fire burning!

We, KAREN NORRIS and ROGER PERRY, will our speech ability to Hal Stahl, even though he doesn't need it.

I, SUSIE OSTERCAMP, will my COMPLETE bride book to Norleen Avery, but I want it back when and IF I need it.

I, ANTHONY PETERS, will my quiet manner to Mr. Hemmes, since we're such good buddies.

I, CHERYL PRUISNER, will my hours before the mirror to Mervin Boekhoff. I'd will you a comb too, but I hear you have enough.

I, STAN SCHIPPER, will my position in the Typing II class to Gerald Peters. Keep up the good attendance.

I, BONNIE SESSLER, will my wise cracks to Donna Abbas. Now you can be the life of the party.

I, PAT STUBBE, will my crown to Diane Rykena and Nancy Druvenga. Now you won't have to compete for it next year.

I, DENTON UHLENHOPP, will the Rambler to my brother, Darwin. Let's hope the old girl can take it.

I, VALERIE VOOGD, will my many nicknames to the Army Surplus Supplies.

I, PAUL WILLIS, will myself to Norleen Avery. You lucky girl, you!

I, PIIA AARMA, will my turn at wearing the shorthand pin to Joyce VanDyk and Jeanne Everts.

I, JAN MAIFIELD, will my electric blanket to Collin Ocheltree. He's got to have SOMETHING warm to cover his car!

I, LARRY HARKEN, will my success with the women to Wayne Meyer and Ron Aaldricks. Watch out girls.

I, ELDON KRULL, will my go-go cowboy boots to Ramona Muller.

We, the senior basketball girls, will our training rules to Tod Ubben. He will now have a good excuse to wear that Russian hat.

We, the senior cheerleaders, will our outfits to Mrs. Bastow. Now she will have something appropriate to wear when she practices her favorite cheer: You're lookin' good big team!

We, the class of 1967, will the contracts of the senior trip to the class of 1968. Let's see if you can find a loop hole.....

Class Prophecy

The year is 1977. The scene is the lounge of the Golden Fountain, Aplington's most recently opened supper club, under the management of the Van Ellens and the Pruisners. Music is being furnished by Craig Frey and his Three Coins, Douglas Neymeyer, Mark Kramer and Louis Bakker.

The guests are being greeted by Wayne Dohrman, recently hired "doorman" for the club. Get it, Dohrman! Newly hired hat-check girls are Sue Ostercamp and Connie Koppedryer. Early arrivers are the famous artists, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Elliott, who have recently returned from an art tour in Europe. The Volkswagon gives evidence that ten must be able to travel as cheaply as one.

Close behind the Elliotts is Glen Everts. The absence of his wife Teresa produces questions. He promptly explains that she has been busy chasing his lost hounds in Willis' Woods.

Speaking of Willis' Woods, the owner of the Buck Grove Grocery has arrived to join the party. Why is he handing cigars to some of the guests? OH, the population of the thriving metropolis has increased by one. Say, speaking of increases, Stan Schipper, devoted to his farm responsibilities, excitedly talks with his friends about triplet calves recently born to his favorite purebred Holstein. We're not at a loss for theatrical personalities at this class reunion. Karen Norris, who began her career as Fairy Mae in "The Curious Savage", has informed us of her leading role in the recent Broadway release of "Sleeping Beauty". Her co-star is Larry Harken, alias "Sparks", as Prince Charming. She's accompanied by the Phyllis Diller of the current era, Sharon Henricks, the former beautician, who also made her debut in "The Curious Savage".

The class of 1967 has contributed to the Peace Corps Movement through the bustling, ambitious avid-minded efforts of Jake Limberg and Eldon Krull, who recently returned from their missions in Siberia. Listen as they share moments of excitement with the clan. General Kent Kooi's fan club listens as he explains to them how he successfully completed his first year at West Point without any women. Linda Elliott, Cheryl Pruisner, Kathleen Lindaman, and Barb Kampman now form the nucleus of the All-American Redheads. Only their hairdressers, Judy Finger and Linda Klahsen, know which one is the true redhead. Robert Meinders and Roger Perry, Professors of English at Harvard, saunter in to join their former classmates. They're engaged in a heated argument concerning the proper method of student torture. Roger believes in teaching and torturing while Robert settles for just torturing. Any ideas where this philosophy originated?

Dr. Piia Aarma, noted psychologist, is presently concerned with giving counsel to the former Shirley Card. It seems they're discussing a problem surrounding Shirley's marriage. Paulette Druvenga waits to discuss a recent dream about someone tall, dark, and handsome coming into her life. She's afraid the dream may come true. Patty Stubbe, designer for Vogue fashions, models most becomingly her latest creation, a cellophane cocktail dress. We're relieved to notice that the cellophane is tinted. The former Terry Sneve, Becky Dreyer, and Kathy Meyer are wearing other creations of Patty's--the so-called tent dress! Are they, or aren't they? Never fear, the class's two nurses are here--Judy Hartman and Marcia Neymeyer. Marilyn Mehmen, bank president, and her secretary, Janice Maifield, are chauffeured by Kathy Fisher, driving a new Chevelle, compliments of Allen Chevrolet of Allison. Janice Duhn's bubbling personality hardly lends to her choice of a profession--she is now Aplington's only mortician. Janice relies on her sober friend, Bonnie Sessler, for assistance in all grave undertakings.

Among the last to join the group is Pat Klooster. Pat has been delayed because of a lengthy discussion about the KLOOSTER BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE with her publisher Valerie Voogd.

The guests enjoy reminiscing school days and happy times and particularly enjoy listening to Vernon DeVries, Neale Oldenburger, and Anthony Peters boastfully tell about recent winnings at the Indianapolis Speedway. Denton Uhlenhopp and Kenny Abbas, co-owners of the speedway, complain of their economic failure due to a loss in gate receipts. It seems the monopoly created by their three former classmates discourages other competitors.

The important moment of the evening has arrived! Paul Elliott, president of the American Automobile Association and famous lecturer, mounts the podium to present his speech entitled "Compact Cars for Compact People with Compact Minds". The full impact of his compact message is felt and reviewed as the class of 1967 start wending their separate ways toward home.

Administration

The Class of 1967 and their advisor have worked long and hard to make this yearbook worthy of the name of our school and the investment that the advertisers and subscribers have made by financing its production.

We congratulate the members of the Class of 1967 for having stayed in school to the completion of the twelfth grade. We hope that your parents may be proud of this accomplishment and feel that their many sacrifices have been worth it.

Albert Einstein's definition of true education was "Education is that which remains after you have forgotten everything you learned at school." We hope that this level of applied learning will be high in the mind and body of each senior.

Perhaps many of you may be inspired to seek higher levels of achievement and education in college, vocational schools, trade schools, branches of government or armed forces or elsewhere in the world.

But no matter how high you may go we pray that you will never forget that true education imbues living and applying yourselves to humble service to our creator and country; and lovingly addressing your talents to aiding your fellow man.

May you never forget your old friends and experiences as portrayed in this keepsake yearbook of 1967.

Sincerely,

Clifford W. McKee

This has been a most enjoyable first year at Aplington for me. I have found the students and teachers to be most cooperative.

I hope the seniors will remember this as a year of great achievement and as a first step in a complete education. All people must grow and learn throughout their lives as education is a continuing process. Graduation is a beginning, not an end.

For the underclassmen, I hope you will strive to achieve to the utmost of your ability. Our most important goal in life should be to work to our potential. Everyone can not be first, but we should strive to be the best we can and to work to make ourselves and our school the best possible in the state of Iowa, on the North American continent, on the planet earth. You can accomplish what you want to if you work hard enough.

Good luck to all in future endeavors.

Stephen H. Williams.

The 1966-67 season was another year of success for the Aplington Panthers. The boys started off with a 56-48 victory over their yearly rival, Wellsburg. The boys rolled along on a nine-game winning streak which included an 85-60 victory over a powerful Alden team and a first-round sweep of conference play. After dropping a 39-50 loss to Dike and a 46-49 loss to Dumont, the boys began conference tournament action. The boys downed Parkersburg 42-35, New Hartford 63-51, and avenged their earlier defeat by winning the championship against Dumont 38-33. To round out the season, the boys defeated Sheffield-Chapin in the first round of the sectional tournament and dropped the semi-final game to Dumont, 52-49. The over-all season mark was an impressive 16-5 mark.

"And if I laugh at any mortal thing--
'Tis that I may not weep."
- Byron

THE CURIOUS SAVAGE by John Patrick was presented as the Fall All-School play on November 2 and 4.

Linda Elliott assumed the title role of Mrs. Savage and turned in a very commendable performance. She had been committed to "The Cloisters," a mental institution because her children wanted her declared mentally incompetent so that they might take over the family estate. But the children were really the savages in the Savage family.

From the first appearance and comment about living in a "bug house" to her concern about wearing out the rug evenly, until Fairy May's announcement that there was a fire in the bathtub, there was plenty of activity. And the fact that Mrs. Savage carried her Teddy Bear at all times was not really so curious. After all, that is where she had hidden the stocks and bonds her children were after.

Mrs. Savage learned a great deal during her short stay at The Cloisters. She learned that the patients had found what everyone wants --to want nothing. They had found contentment. From Mrs. Paddy she gets an eye (for her bear) to see herself; from Fairy May she gains a lesson of loveliness; from Jeff the Book of Job; from Florence a grain of salt to take with all she sees; and Hannibal gave her an appreciation of music she never had before.

When the final curtain closes, Mrs.Savage leaves the asylum for the last time. Behind her remain the inmates who must live confined to their mental limitations. Ahead she faces the savage world that exists outside. She takes with her a valuable lesson:

"And if I laugh at any mortal thing--
'Tis that I may not weep."

THE STORY

Herbert Gage, who was hoping to write a best seller, knew of only one person who would purchase a home to which there wasn't a clear title - his wife.

On the day things had settled down to normal after Herbert had remodeled the house, who should come in the front door? None other than old Jonathan and Mathilda Rockwood. And they moved in and set up housekeeping in the bedroom and poor Herbert didn't have a legal leg to stand on, however, Jonathan, who didn't hold with Democrats or "indoor plumbin'" managed to keep poor Herbert jumping. Add to this a broken romance and a reconciliation, and you have an inkling of the situation in Wm. Roos' three-act comedy JANUARY THAW.

JANUARY THAW was presented on April 12 and 14, 1967.
